History The Mawlid al-Barzanji was originally written in Arabic, but was later translated into Persian, then Urdu, and finally, the Romanized Urdu language. As of 2010, the original Arabic text, and its Persian translation are in the possession of the Mawlid Ali Jilani of Baba Ashraf Ashraf Uthmaniyya. The original text was written by the Islamic scholar and historian, Sayyid Abul Fazl (d. 1576 CE), who was a court historian in the court of Akbar and was also a descendant of Sayyid Ahmed Sirhindi, the sixth generation descendant of Baba Farid. Sayyid Abul Fazl was also a descendant of Sayyid Ahmed Sirhindi. The Shahnameh by Abul Fazl is regarded as one of the most valuable sources of information about the history of pre-Islamic Iran. Sayyid Abul Fazl was born in the city of Multan in Punjab, Pakistan, to a family of scholars and devotees of the Sufi saint, Sayyid Ahmed Sirhindi. He was awarded a scholarship to study in Deoband, India. After the death of his father, he was sent to study in Medina. There he met the Sufi saint and mystic, Sayyid Ali. He learned the teachings and philosophy of Islam from Sayyid Ali and wrote many books on the Islamic sciences. He then traveled to India and stayed there for 82157476af
